

The Wedding Present Difficulty

Is it not to give something which shall be beautiful; have a permanent value of high order; contain evidences of thoughtful personal interest; and at the same time be appropriate, yet absolutely unique?

The 'Repoussé' bound books supplied by Cedric Chivers meet these desiderata. Each volume may be treated with a special and original design in modelled leather work with colored or gilt decoration.

The book may have as special features of the design the favourite flower, symbol, crest or monogram of the recipient.

This method of decoration admits the display of the most artistic treatment and a gift so bound is a joy to the giver and a thing of beauty ever to those who receive it.

Jewel cases, stationery cabinets etc. are supplied decorated in a similar way and a guarantee is given that each design is unique.

An exhibition of Repoussé leather work is on view in London at the Library Bureau, 10 Bloomsbury St. W.C. where instructions for orders may be given.
